

Are you someone who has experienced a heart attack, a stroke, or suffer from insufficient blood flow in your legs?

Join our study today.

Your participation in a clinical study can be a notable way of finding a study treatment for complications of heart disease.

If you've experienced a stroke, heart attack, or suffered from insufficient blood flow in your legs, our study may be for you.

As a participant, you will receive expert care from compassionate healthcare professionals on a study journey for 4 years.

So, if you have a heart to help make a difference for yourself, your loved ones, and your community, talk to your doctor or nurse about joining our study today.

